

dent. Suffice it to say he was stubborn where concession was needed and ready to conciliate when firmness was indispensable. As Mr. Conkling rallied the State Convention around

